

Dockside gambling opposition rising

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Rev. Nathan Barber continued to make his views known concerning dockside gambling as he appeared at the Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting Friday.

Barber said in beginning his speech to the board, "I'm here to ask you, with all the sincerity I can muster, to oppose dockside gambling or casino gambling, which I know you know are the same thing."

Barber took with him several copies of the Abrams Report, a study done by New York state attorney general Robert Abrams in the early 1980s concerning the affects of casino gambling on areas where it is legalized. Before passing the copies out to the supervisors, he highlighted some of Abrams' findings.

Abrams' research revealed that in the first few years of legalized gambling in Atlantic City, N.J., 90 percent of the businesses not associated with gambling folded, Barber stated.

In summarizing the points he cited from the Abrams Report concerning the affect of gambling on business, Barber commented, "Any support of this is not going to be a support of business."

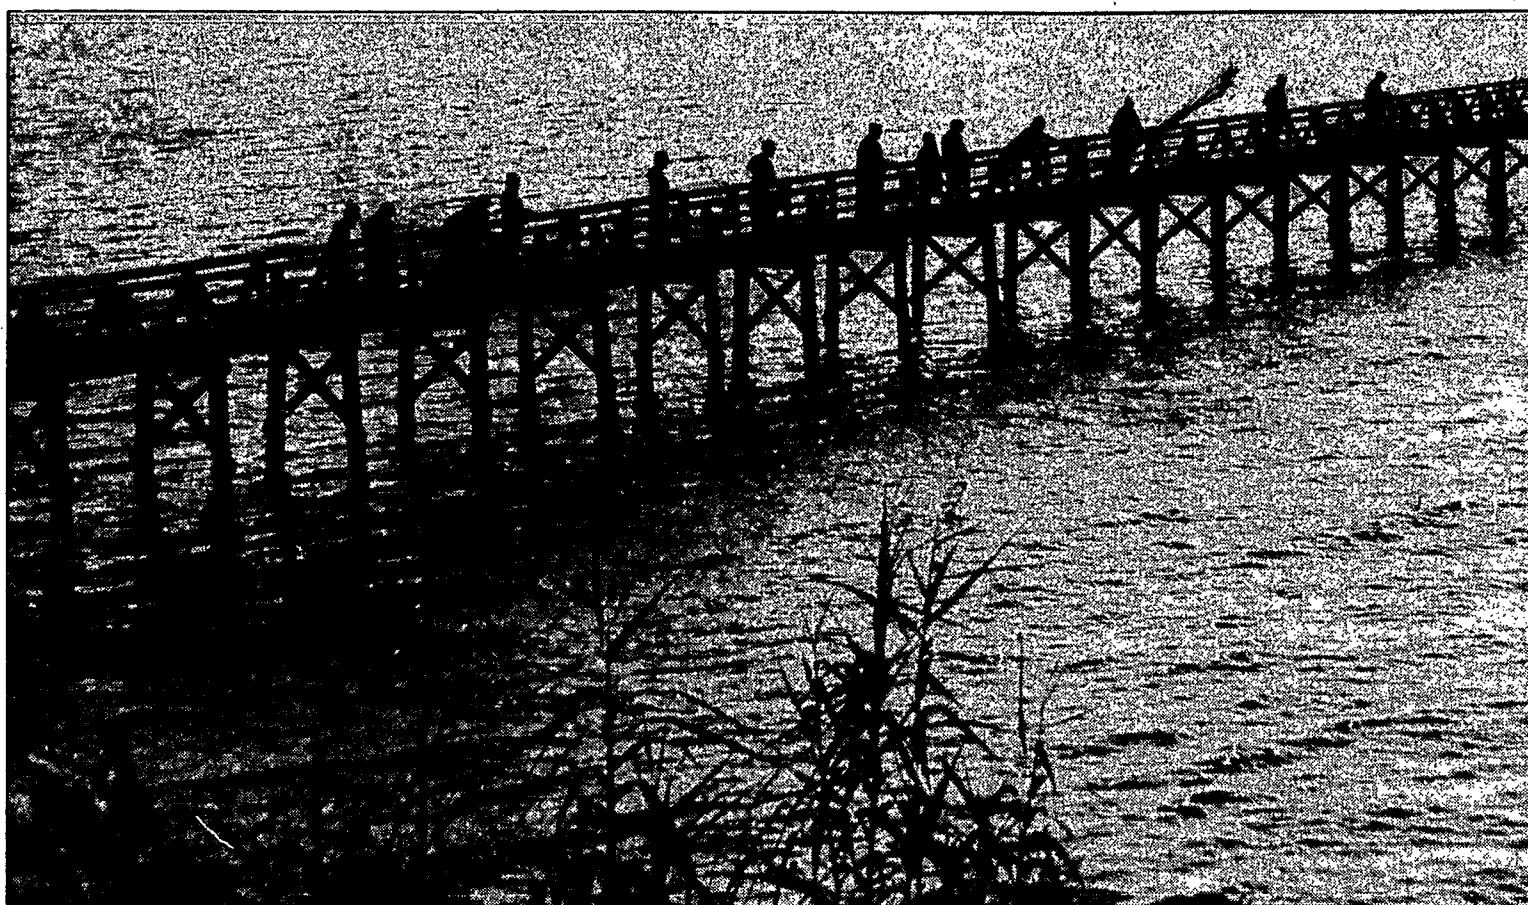

He went on to quote Abrams' findings about many aspects of government and life in cities with legalized gambling, including 1) unemployment — the rate in Atlantic City neither increased nor decreased, but the number of people on welfare or making use of rescue shelters and other such agencies rose dramatically; 2) crime — the demand for law enforcement and other municipal services rose 2,000 percent, and the city has not been able to keep up with the need; 3) organized crime — 12 organized crime families were operating in Atlantic City at the time of the report.

In conclusion, Barber said, "My request to you is that you, as a political figure in this county, do what you can to dissuade and stop the casino gambling industry from coming into the area."

He also asked the supervisors to sign a petition calling for a referendum on legalized gambling. All five signed, along with

Will it or won't it?

Possible gambling referendum produces speculation, petition

BY TRACI BONNEY

While speculation continues and opinions are voiced over the dockside gambling issue, Representative Vic Frankiewicz is not certain it will go to a referendum in Hancock County.

Stating what he called "a crystal ball projection," Frankiewicz predicted Harrison County will be the only one of the three coastal counties to bring the issue to a referendum.

However, Frankiewicz also said he thinks dockside gambling will be approved in any of the three counties if it does go to a referendum, with a 55 to 65 percent margin.

By law, if the number of registered voters in a county signing petitions calling for a vote is insufficient, dockside gambling will automatically become a reality.

Meanwhile, several local churches are circulating copies of a petition calling for a referendum. For the gambling issue to go to a vote, 1,500 signatures of registered voters are needed.

October 26 is the deadline for the petitions to be filed with the circuit clerk. Those interested in signing can go to the following churches:

J. Larry Ladner plans to retire

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

If ever there were to be selected a Hancock County Hall of Fame for basketball players, J. Larry Ladner would certainly be chosen captain of such a team.

The era of basketball from 1960 through 1990 could probably be called "The Golden Age" of that sport in the state of Mississippi. It was an era that produced truly outstanding high school and college players, coaches and teams in the state.

One of the individuals who helped the sport gain in popularity and quality during that era was University of Southern Mississippi professor J. Larry Ladner. The announcement that he will retire at the end of the current school year signals perhaps the end of the era.

From his early days as head basketball coach at Piquette Memorial High School in Piquette, to speaking at and conducting basketball clinics statewide, regionally and even around the world, Ladner has dedicated his life to promoting, teaching, coaching and improving the quality of the game of basketball.

Closed primary more expensive to voters

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The City of Waveland will be fighting the bills of a one party primary November 6.

The Republican party failed to qualify two people for the same seat, thereby eliminating the need for the party to hold a primary election.

The Democratic finalist will run against Republican and Independent candidates on Tuesday, December 4 in a general election in which voters can choose from the various parties.

Mississippi does not require party affiliation with voter registration. It is only during the primary election stage a voter must choose sides.

According to Charles Gotts-chalk, chairman of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, in a primary election, a candidate must have 50% plus one vote to win, otherwise a runoff election must be held between the top two candidates. (If the two tie, they draw straws or flip coins.)

In a primary runoff election, the voter must remain with the party previously selected. Crossing over to another party is not allowed at this time.

Only in the general election may a voter choose candidates from various parties. Here the election becomes open.

Several political representatives of Waveland have voiced dissatisfaction with the closed primary system because of the additional cost to the taxpayers.

Mayor John Longo spoke of the closed primary system saying, "It is limited and restrictive. The people have to vote multiple times."

As an alternative, Longo said, "I would like to see winner take all. The one man who comes up with the most votes, wins. It would be cheaper for the taxpayers."

Republican mayoral candidate John Mason, too, supports a change to an open primary system.

Mason said, "An open primary would be better. It would save time and confusion. I would like to see some safeguards put in place though."

"I would not like to see a repeat of what happened in Louisiana. During a runoff election, Gov. Edwin Edwards conceded to Roemer and Roemer became governor with only 30% of the vote. If a top contender drops out, some provision should be made so that a man can't just walk in with less than 50% of the vote."

The Democratic party has 16 mayor-aldermen and 5 executive committee candidates listed on the official ballot for the November 6 primary.

The Republican Executive Committee is called temporary because they have yet to stage a primary election. The members were appointed and remain until an election is held. The Democratic Executive Committee is an elected body and its members are voted on in a primary.

State law dictates whether primaries are to be open or closed.

County bus drivers to wait for checks

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Seven Hancock County school bus drivers who have been driving extended routes since the beginning of the school year have peacefully agreed to continue and wait until the board can pay them.

Thelma Shiyou reported in a phone conversation on Friday, October 12, the drivers had consented to wait.

School board superintendent Terrell Randolph stated on Thursday, October 11 the board could do nothing at present.

"We are waiting on tax revenues to come in, sometime in January, and then everyone will get a raise," said Randolph.

"The bus drivers are not the only people I have working extra hours," continued Randolph, "I can't be discriminatory with any one group."

At the Wednesday, October 10 recess meeting, the seven drivers appeared before the board seeking a solution to the lack of payment for the extra distance.

Both superintendent Terrell Randolph and assistant superintendent Eddie Danzey were absent for the Wednesday meeting.

Board member Lynette Necaise explained the board's bookkeeper was out on emergency leave due to surgery, leaving the board unable to gather the necessary financial information needed for a decision.

Board chairman Frank Miller asked the drivers, "Has Mr. Danzey talked with ya'll?"

"No," a driver answered. On Thursday, assistant superintendent Eddie Danzey stated there was no need for the drivers to appear before the board and act as if they knew nothing, for he said, "I spoke with Thelma Shiyou (Tuesday) the night before and explained that Mr. Randolph and I would not be present for the meeting. I also explained about the bookkeeper being ill and our not being able to locate the information we needed for a decision."

On Friday, Shiyou said she had spoken with Danzey and the other drivers were aware of the situation prior to the meeting.

One of the drivers addressed the board asking, "Have they tried to get seven (other) drivers to drive down here?"

"I have no idea," replied Necaise.

Today recalls sad memories
 Of a dear one gone to rest,
 And the ones who think of her today

Are the ones who loved her best.

In silence she suffered,
 In patience she bore;
 Till God called her home
 To suffer no more.

Do not think we have lost her,
 For that could never be;
 She is only on a journey,
 Where God guards her constantly.

In Memoriam

The air is cool and dry. It's the type of day that makes you happy to be alive. The wind whistles through the trees and rattles the dry leaves. It stirs memories from the past.

The frost still fresh on the forest floor makes every step crisp and sends the sound echoing through the woods.

Ahead on the rail runs the future, exploring the swamp for the first time, with all his enthusiasm and love for each new wonder. He is the image of you, Dad. With every movement, every syllable, I am reminded of you. Life regenerated, the cycle begins again.

How do I teach a child to love the land and respect its animals? How do I gently give the gifts of knowledge that you gave to me? How did you do it, Dad?

The wind stirs the leaves again. There will be no answer, only silence. The answer must come from within myself now. It will come from the gifts of love that you bestowed on me and from all my wonderful memories of our life together.

In memory of Buddy Brodtmann, Claude Hogan and Louis Dehon who passed from our lives October 11, 1989.

So the tragedy of last year is not repeated, please check all exhaust systems in boats, camps and campers.

Hancock Medical Center hosts Red Cross blood drive

Hancock Medical Center will host a Red Cross blood drive Wednesday, Oct. 17, 1 to 5 p.m. The community is urged to participate.

"It's important that the community realizes the need for blood donations," Red Cross spokesperson Lisa Oleson said. "Hospitals in Hancock County ordered 1,535 units of blood last year, but through blood drives, the county collected only 638 units, which was 207 units less than the year before.

"Blood drives are an excellent way to provide blood for directed donations, which is when a person donates blood to be used by someone they know with surgery scheduled."

In addition, autologous donations can be made during a blood drive. An autologous donation is when a person donates so that his own blood will be available when he has surgery.

For more information about donation procedures, call Oleson at 896-3234. For information about HMC's blood drive call Audrey Dunn or Karen Dardar at 467-9081.

USADirect offers free telephone service to Americans in Saudi Arabia

AT&T in October is introducing USADirect (R) Service from Saudi Arabia and during an introductory period, will allow Americans stationed in Saudi Arabia to make free three-minute phone calls to the United States to demonstrate the service.

USADirect will enable Americans stationed in Saudi Arabia to reach an AT&T operator in the United States by dialing 1-800-100 from most telephones.

The AT&T operator can complete calls anywhere in the United States. USADirect Service will be available from virtually all U.S. military bases in Saudi Arabia.

"AT&T is acting out of concern for military personnel stationed in Saudi Arabia who have had a difficult time communicating with friends and family," said Frank Ianna, vice president for marketing International Communications Services.

"We want to give all those who are serving in Saudi Arabia a chance to call home."

With the addition of Saudi Arabia, USADirect Service is now available in 82 countries.

Travelers, expatriates, journalists and military personnel have found the five-year-old USADirect Service a good way to keep in touch with friends and relatives in the United States.

USADirect Service is economical because calls are billed at AT&T rates and callers generally avoid hotel surcharges. It is convenient because the use of American operators avoids language difficulties.

Numbers to reach USADirect vary by country. In some countries the service is only available from specially designated telephones. For further information about USADirect Services, call 1-800-874-4000.

with Randolph he said, "I am trying to get other drivers to relieve them."

On Friday, Shiyou said the seven would keep the extended routes. She said the seven had met with Randolph that morning and said they would work with them and wait for the money.

During the Wednesday night board meeting, Miller added he had come prepared with suggestions on pay raises, but felt without the presence of Randolph and Danzey it was fruitless to discuss the subject.

Mrs. Deborah Cagle, a Hancock County elementary student parent who was present at the meeting, said, "I am here in support of the drivers. They are performing their duties above and beyond what the other drivers are doing."

The drivers left the board meeting and gathered in the outer hall.

The board went on with other business:

—Bid recommendations for food service products totaling $131,000 was approved.

—Permission to pay $12,000 to Cortech, Inc. for engineering charges on the Sewerage Treatment Plant for the new school at Stennis Air Park was given.

—Payment of $44.50/pair, for 16 boys and 17-18 girl's varsity basketball shoes, to be taken from the athletic fund, was approved.

—A request was made to check on the height and painting of speed bumps in the new school's parking lots.

—A request was made for an update on the amount of bond monies remaining in account.

—Approval was given for the installation of a caution light at Highway 603 and the turn off road into Stennis Air Park with a correction added to the order which would eliminate the installation of a stop sign at the same sight.

—The resignations of Pamela J. Pickering as elementary teacher, effective September 26 and Lori Herrmann as office clerk, effective October 12, both at Gulfview Elementary, this year, was approved.

—The employment of Gloria Lancaster as special education teacher pending certification, Pamela J. Lassabe as elementary teacher and Rhonda O. Sonnes as substitute teacher, all at Gulfview Elementary and for the 1990-91 school year, was approved.

—The employment of four part-time cafeteria workers for Hancock North Central Elementary and Hancock High School for the 1990-91 school year, was approved.

The board entered into executive session for student hearings and will meet again on November 5.

board attorney Gerald Gex and Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson followed Barber in making a public stand opposing legalized gambling in the area. He first pointed out that he was at the meeting of his own accord and not at the request of Barber or any other person or group.

He then said he thinks local charitable organizations that depend on bingo and other games of chance for funds will suffer with the advent of legalized gambling, since casino operators "are out to get a dollar" and not concerned about the revenues they will be diverting from charitable organizations.

Peterson's second comment was that, as a law enforcement officer, he has "no doubt that gambling for profit breeds corruption."

Other matters addressed by the board included:

—approved an advance of $500 on the budget of the Civil Service Commission for the purchase of court-approved test materials for sheriff's depart-

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It is indeed an honor for Hancock Countians to now have Bay St. Louis as the U.S. headquarters for the Veterans of World War I Ladies Auxiliary.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies were held Saturday afternoon for the office located in the Bay Mall Shopping Center.

The move is from Alexandria, VA. and Pauline Charping of Waveland is the executive director.

We wish the Auxiliary the best in the years to come.

I am glad to see the new construction underway at St. Stanislaus.

It will be good to again see buildings over an area where I attended classes many years ago.

The added classrooms will make room for more students.

As some of you know, there always appears to be a waiting list of boys wanting, or, at least parents wanting them to enter Stanislaus.

The school has had an important role in this community since its founding in 1854.

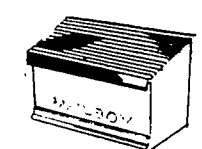

There are not many schools around with such tenure as St. Stanislaus, not even colleges or universities.

I will be looking forward to the completion of the project.

The members of the Gulf Coast Senior Ladies' 4.0 Volvo Team are playing in a national tennis tourney in a few days and I wish them the best.

Members of the team are from along the Gulf Coast with member Mary McDonnell being from Diamondhead.

I hope the ladies will have a good tourney.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Cut salaries to reduce budget deficit

Dear Editor,

Your Thursday, Oct. 4 issue, "Street Talk" asked "What would you cut on the federal budget?" I agree with Shirley Cox (whom I do not know personally) to cut the salaries of senators and representatives, but I would go further.

Cut 10 percent of any federal employee salary from grade 14 or higher, including congressional aides, judges, bureau chiefs, etc., etc; also the military; full colonels of the Army, Marines and equal of Navy, Coast Guard, Air Force and Border Patrol.

The only one who would suffer is the IRS with less collections, and that should cut the federal deficit.

Yours truly,
Virginia C. Watt

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Funding bill includes over $1 billion for Mississippi

U. S. Senator Thad Cochran says an agricultural funding bill passed by the Senate contains more than $1 billion for projects and programs in Mississippi.

The $52 billion agricultural appropriations bill for FY 1991 funds the U.S. Department of Agriculture's wide range of programs, including crop supports, soil and water conservation, export enhancement, rural development, nutrition assistance and research.

Senator Cochran, the ranking Republican member of the appropriations subcommittee, said the bill targets about $54 million for research programs at Mississippi universities and government facilities, and the state expects to share in other projects totaling almost $36 million.

He noted the bill includes funds for polymer science, forestry research, a natural products laboratory, as well as shrimp and catfish research programs.

"At a time when federal dollars are scarce because of severe budget problems, we are very pleased to see these allocations made to our state," Cochran said.

"It will make a big difference for our agriculture economy and the research programs at our colleges and universities," he added.

Nearly $900,000 in the bill is for fruit and muscadine research, $685,000 is for sweet potato research, and $2.2 million is for food service management and food safety programs.

We cannot afford to forgive Egypt's debt

Lost in the confusion and debate over the 1991 budget is a proposal by the Administration to forgive approximately $7 billion in military debt owed the United States by the government of Egypt.

The Administration argues that Egypt has been a "stalwart frontline nation" in the effort to contain Iraq.

I think the reality is that we are praising Egypt more for its diplomatic support for the U.S. operation in the Persian Gulf than its military presence in Saudi Arabia.

I appreciate what Egypt has done to contribute to peace in the Middle East, particularly in its cooperation with the State of Israel. I also appreciate what Cairo is doing in Saudi Arabia, but the aggression of Saddam Hussein, is, after all, in Egypt's part of the world. It is in Egyptians' interest to be on the front lines in Saudi Arabia.

We should not try to buy Egypt's gratitude because they agreed to do what they should have been doing in the first place—defending themselves and their neighbors from Iraqi aggression.

The reality is that we may never receive the $7 billion payment from Egypt for its purchase of military hardware, but at a time when such things as medicare cuts for the elderly and 12 cent gasoline tax hikes that will severely impact middle class workers are being considered, an outright forgiveness of a $7 billion foreign debt makes no sense at all.

Just the proposal of the debt forgiveness has triggered requests for debt relief from other nations. At the end of 1989, Israel had an official debt to the United States of $4.6 billion—most of it owed for previous deliveries of military equipment.

The government of Poland owed us $2.85 billion in official debt at the end of 1989, according to Treasury Department data.

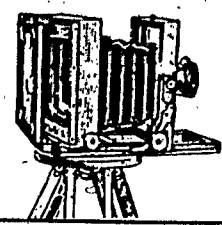

For some lawmakers already critical of the fact that the Administration planned to bolster the military capabilities of Arab allies in the region as part of its overall effort to contain Iraq, the consideration of forgiving Egypt's debt is especially worrisome.

The idea unnerves our ally Israel which consistently has been our staunchest friend in the Middle East and again poses the question, "why shouldn't Israel also receive debt forgiveness?"

My response is that the United States should forgive no debts. At a time when we must cut back spending, foreign accounts—including foreign aid and support for military operations all over the world—should receive the first shots.

My opposition to the budget summit deal which was defeated in the House of Representatives on Oct. 5 was in part due to the fact it proposed increased fees in medicare programs for the elderly and billions of dollars in new taxes. But at the same time, it proposes "zero" cuts in international spending. That's an outrage.

We can cut spending in our domestic programs, and we will. But it must come after we have revamped our foreign aid and foreign spending programs.

The Hancock County Game and Fish Protective Association held its October meeting last Wednesday night at the courthouse with the president, H.L. Witter, presiding. The attendance was large and a number of business matters were disposed of. Roy Cagle suggested that steps be taken towards Mississippi and Louisiana having a uniform time for the killing of squirrels to prevent outsiders shooting on each other's grounds.

Attending the annual session of Mississippi-Tennessee Sheriffs and Police Officers, Sheriff Horace L. Kergosien, Chief Deputy F.J. Bopp and Constable Gerald V. Price of Beat 5, returned Saturday from Jackson, Tenn., well satisfied with their trip and the result of attending the convention. Sheriff Kergosien was elected vice-president of the association, a distinction not to be lost sight of, and he will serve in that capacity that will serve to the advantage of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Stokoe returned home Monday evening from Buffalo, New York, by train, leaving their automobile in that city to be shipped home by freight. They were in that vicinity, gone two weeks, on their trip to New York in their car when they heard of the storm here. Mr. Stokoe at once left for home in order to cope with the situation, which his men, in his absence had so well started restoring the lighting plant and its lines of wires and poles over the city. Mr. Stokoe's loss will well foot up in the thousands of dollars but with indomitable will and courage he has gone to work, and much of the damage wrought by the storm has already been restored as far as the lack of material will permit.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

The need for finetuning

Mississippians, committed to the economic advancement of the region, continue to finetune the state's business climate.

Significant events are taking place now, with both public and private organizations and individuals involved.

Consider these current developments:

The Governor has just appointed a business taskforce to review the recently problem-plagued employment security operation.

The Legislature's PEER Committee is also examining the operations of the Employment Security Commission. In years past, Mississippi has enjoyed a national reputation of excellence in its unemployment compensation program, and the reputation of the agency and the program must be protected.

Committees of both the House and the Senate have been poring over the state's workers' compensation program, working to assure that the program offers fairness to both employer and employee.

The Mississippi Economic Council is involved with the State Department of Education's division of vocational-technical education in steps to pick up the pace of training for young adults entering the workforce.

Public and private environmental groups are pushing toward a solution to the state's critical hazardous and solid waste treatment problems.

Eternal vigilance and finetuning are essential to the success of any efforts to move Mississippi ahead economically. Fortunately for us all, Mississippians—both public and private—are eager to accomplish the finetuning, to protect Mississippi's very favorable business climate.

Coach Ladner

Coach Ladner helped bring basketball to the forefront of sports in Hancock County in the early 1950's as a star at Kiln High School.

His basketball talents as a player continued with a scholarship to Pearl River Junior College followed by one to Louisiana College in Alexandria, La.

In an exclusive interview this week, Ladner, whose mother still resides in Kiln near the old school building, in commenting about his upcoming retirement said, "I am grateful to God for the talents that he has blessed me with. Also, I am grateful to my parents, family, relatives and many friends for the tremendous loyalty and support given me throughout my professional career."

His impact on the game in Mississippi and on the state's players began during his 11 seasons as head coach at Poyune Memorial High School (1960-1971). Ladner, during that time, established himself as one of the state's most successful coaches by posting an impressive 253-82 record.

He built the Maroon Tide into one of the state's basketball powers. They won numerous in-season tournaments in addition to the South Big Eight Conference championship, district championships, the South Mississippi Championship and a second place finish in the overall state championship competition.

His philosophy of discipline, dedication and hard work that proved so successful on the court had an even more powerful impact on his players' after they finished their playing careers. Many went on to be successful in their own right throughout the state.

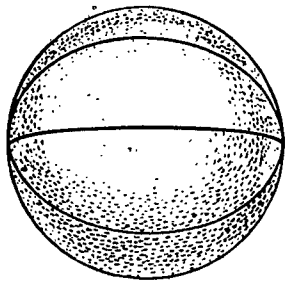

"I am extremely proud to be from Kiln and Hancock County. Professionally speaking, I have always felt that I represented more than self, but also my class and schoolmates at Kiln High School, my community, and Hancock County," Ladner stated.

Coach Ladner, and his wife, the former Peggy Willoughby of Poplarville, are the parents of two sons, Jay Larry and Stewart Dean; and two daughters, Pamela Ann and Kimberly Ann. They now reside in Hattiesburg, but also maintain a home on Bayou Coco, not far from where he began a basketball career that would result in selection to the 1955 State All Star team.

Coach Ladner's brother, Earl (Buck) Ladner and sister, Mrs. Clayton Adams, reside in Bay St. Louis.

Ladner's love of basketball began as an elementary student at Kiln. His fondness for and dedication to the sport led to the honor of being the first basketball player from Hancock County selected to participate in the Mississippi North-South All Star Basketball game.

Retired teacher and coach Clarence Ladner of Bay St. Louis was delighted to hear that Larry was retiring from Southern.

Clarence Ladner was a former grammar school coach and high school math teacher of Ladner's and he said, "Larry was a competitor. Everything he did, he did with pride. He was concerned even about his appearance and he set a fine example for everyone."

"Larry was a very good student and well liked by everyone. He liked to win. As a matter of fact, he was class president of his freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes at Kiln," Ladner recalled.

When he joined the faculty of the University of Southern Mississippi he began molding another generation of young people. This time through teaching them the skills necessary to become coaches and administrators, but still applying ing the philosophy that had proved so successful as a coach.

Ladner played a significant part in the planning and development of USM's Department of Athletic Administration and Coaching (now the Department of Coaching and Sports Administration), which distinguished itself as being the first University in the country to offer a bachelor of science degree in athletic administration and coaching.

Over the years he has served as a clinician throughout the country, teaching and talking about the game he loves and is still constantly in demand to speak at clinics, not only in this country, but foreign countries as well.

In the early 1980's he traveled to Maracaibo, Venezuela to conduct a two-week basketball clinic sponsored by the National Institute of Sport and the University of Zulia. He was the first American representative to coach and conduct a basketball seminar in Venezuela.

For many years he directed a very successful basketball coaching seminar at USM that grew into one of the largest in the South and also directed USM's Golden Eagle basketball camp for the state and region's junior high and high school players.

The veteran coach has had numerous articles published covering literally every aspect of basketball. These articles have appeared in professional journals and basketball publications. He has authored a book, "The Winning Basket," soon to be published.

His many honors include receiving the "Excellence in Teaching Award" on several occasions at USM, and in 1986 he received the "Distinguished Professor of the Year" award given by the USM Alumni Association.

No one will ever forget Ladner's contributions to the game of basketball in the state of Mississippi and even more importantly, to the thousands of young people he has helped guide in so many ways through the formative years of their lives.

His retirement in the spring of 1991 will signal the end of an era in Mississippi basketball, but in a way he won't really be gone, because the philosophy he believed in and taught is still being practiced today throughout the state.

As retirement time approaches Coach Ladner states, "I know of no other profession where a greater impact may be afforded on behalf of your fellow man. I made a commitment to excellence and it has been toward that end that I have directed my efforts."

"I am very grateful for my former players, students, parents, and fans and each day I offer a prayer of thanksgiving for their divine protection and guidance. "Kiln, Hancock County, Poyune, Pearl River County, the University of Southern Mississippi, and Forrest and Lamar Counties shall always hold a special place in my heart."

"I have never forgotten my roots nor my people, and it is to my roots that I plan to retire," Ladner added.

Ladner said his plans for the future are uncertain at this time; however, "I trust that I shall find something with dignity, human and public relations related, to do."

October Hospitality Day brings tourists

Special to the Echo
Bay St. Louis Tourism Commission Chairman Patt Cucullu reported another successful Hancock County Welcome Center Hospitality Day Oct. 6.

The volunteer greeters welcomed more than 450 visitors to the center encouraging a side trip visit to Bay St. Louis. Each visitor is provided with local maps, historic information and shopping guides. The highlight of each Hospitality Day is the featuring of local art works.

"Bay St. Louis is known for having beaches and a beautiful scenic drive and it's our job to offer additional incentives to visit. The diversity of our local art community and unique shopping atmosphere is what makes Bay St. Louis special to most of the travelers," said Cucullu.

The Oct. 6 Hospitality Day featured the expressive and colorful art works of Jeanne Warner. Warner was on the premises to welcome visitors and encourage their visits to local studios.

"The city is enjoying a wonderful fall tourist season and looks forward to an even more successful spring and summer season with the increased regional press in travel sections and guides.

"The hard work of the commission and the additional efforts of Bay businesses are beginning to pay off. I'm really proud of the city. Everyone is really working hard," said Mayor Edward Farve.

Millie Brodman led the Oct. 6 team of volunteers, including Jeanette Ogden, Ruth Chambers, Henni Dana, Ricki Robertson, Evelyn Gordon, Bobby Robertson and Jerri Brown.

Hospitality Day 4 is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 1. For further information or to volunteer call Mrs. Cucullu at 467-6252.

Mississippi seats the nation.

The next time you sit down, think about Mississippi. We make more upholstered, or "stuffed," furniture than any other state. We have 246 furniture plants that hire 26,350 workers. Thousands more work in companies that supply parts for the sofas, sleepers, chairs and recliners.

The Mississippi upholstery industry was started in 1948 when Russian-born Morris Futorian moved to New Albany in Union County. Because he started the first assembly line there, he is called the Henry Ford of furniture. Many of Futorian's workers started companies of their own. Now, Northeast Mississippi calls itself "The Furniture Capital of the World." More than 17,000 people in that region earn a living making soft seats for the nation.

So if you like to recline after a hard day, try a Stratolounger, La-Z-Boy or PeopLounger. You will be relaxing in a real Mississippi product.

Hancock running back Jeron Vince (#25) rushes for some yardage during the Hawks' Friday night game against the Long Beach Bearcats. (Liles Keepsake Photography)

Hawks shut out Bearcats 14-0

Special to the Echo
BY BELINDA LILES
The Hancock Hawks made a clean sweep of all their district opponents last night by defeating Long Beach 14-0 in a game filled with penalties and fumbles.

Hancock came out fired up after they kicked off to Long Beach. The Bearcats ran three plays and had to punt.

The Hawks' offense took over on their own 45-yard line. Hawk quarterback Regan Ladner found running back Jeron Vince open in the Bearcats' secondary and they completed a 23-yard reception.

With the ball resting on the 22-yard line, running back Terrance Goff busted loose for a 12-yard run and brought the ball down to the 11. Vince's number was called again and he carried it in for the first score of the night. The PAT was good.

The Hawks led 7-0 with 8:14 left in the first quarter.

Long Beach took over on their own 20 after the ball was kicked into the end zone by Goff. The Cats picked up two first downs and had moved the ball down to the Hawk 47 when, on a second-and-eight, Long Beach ran a on the 16-yard line.

Long Beach gained one first down and had moved the ball down to the Hawks 39 when they returned the favor and fumbled. Favre recovered for Hancock. This possession was halted by a delay of game and two holding penalties.

A change of possession found Hancock on their own 22. They marched the distance of the field and picked up four first downs by mixing up running plays with running backs Lumpkin, Vince, and Goff all picking up their share of yardage.

The Hawks had the ball on the 6 with a third-and-one, when Goff pushed it in for the score, only to have it called back due to a clipping penalty.

The ball was moved back to the 19, and Long Beach took over on downs.

Again they ran four plays and had to punt.

Goff retrieved the punt on his own 43 and returned it to the Long Beach 43.

With time running out in the first half, Ladner got his passing arm fired up and found Goff open for a pass completion. Goff carried it down to the 20 for a 23-yard gain.

Ladner then found tight end

Mike Majors and picked up 4 yards from his pass reception.

Goff ran it down to the 6. Ladner then tried a roll-out pass, but decided to keep it himself and drove it in for the TD with 33 seconds left in the half.

The PAT was good, and the Hawks took a 14 point lead into the half.

The second half started out with Hancock running three plays and fumbling. A Bearcat lineman retrieved the ball and was heading for an apparent score when Hawk tackle Brodie Forrest ran him down and robbed him of his opportunity.

The remainder of the half was a defensive struggle as both teams were hitting hard and it seemed as though neither team wanted to hold onto the ball. "We played a hard game, but made a lot of mistakes. We had too many penalties, and were not mentally ready. These mistakes kept Long Beach in the game," coach Irvin Favre stated after the game.

The 7-0 Hawks play host to Wayne County next week.

Rock-A-Chaws stick Yellow Jackets

Special to the Echo
BY PATRICK MCGINITY
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws moved one step closer to victory Friday over the home-standing St. Martin Yellow Jackets.

5-2 overall and 2-1 in district. St. Stanislaus can claim the division runner-up spot, and its first-ever trip to the playoffs, with a victory over district rival d'Iberville next week at Rock-A-Chaw stadium.

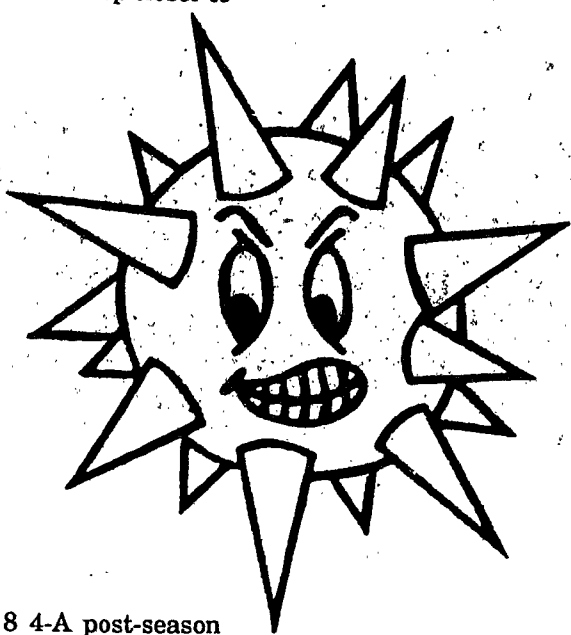

The Rocks scored the first time they got possession of the ball in the contest at St. Martin. The seven play 48 yard drive was highlighted by a 21-yard scamper by junior running back Mike Lee.

Lee went the final seven yards with 8:46 remaining in the first quarter.

After a bad snap on the point after attempt, holder Mickey Quinlan completed a two-yard pass to Galen Smith to give the Rocks an 8-0 lead.

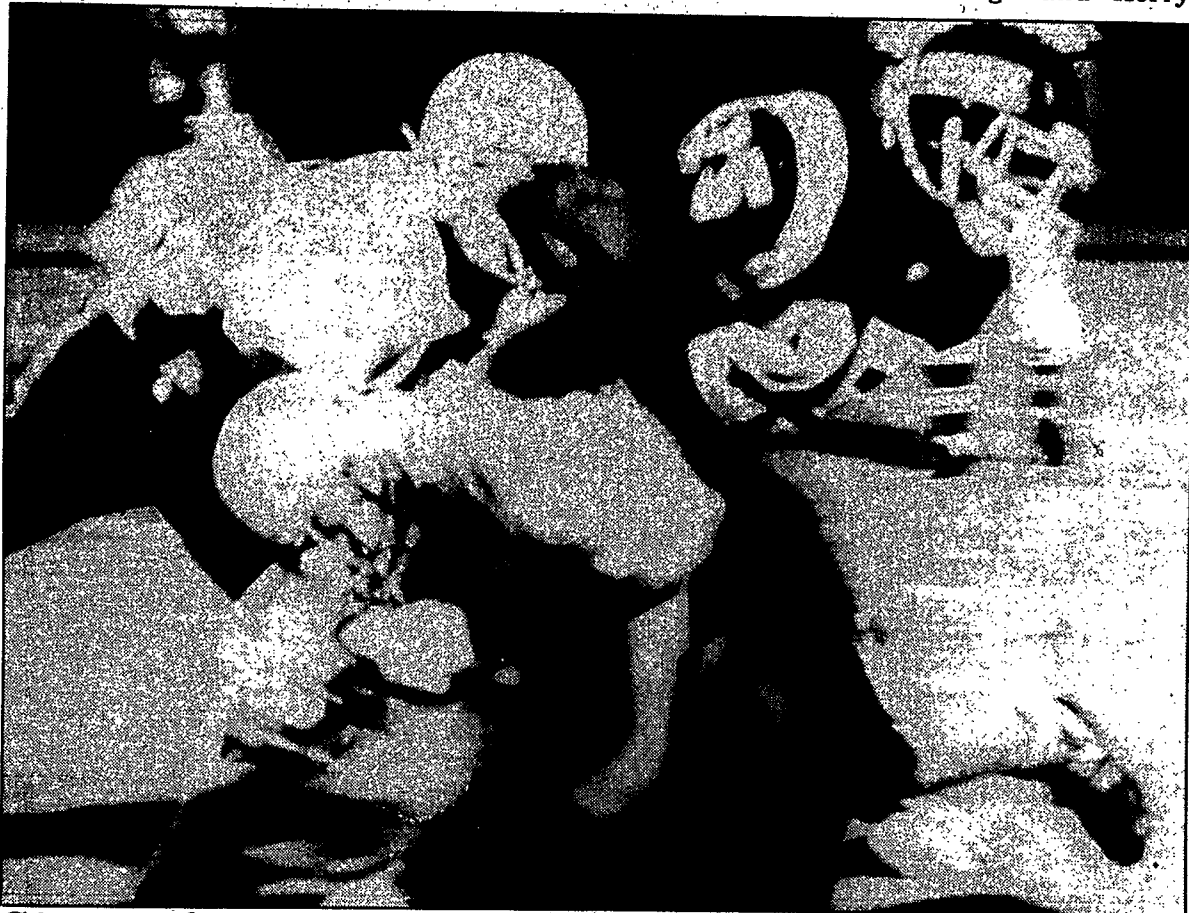

The remainder of the first half turned into a defensive struggle with neither team crossing the 50 yard line.

The Rock defense was led by Scott Peterson, Sal Palmisano, Mike Davidge and Kerry

Wittmann.

In the second half, the Rocks threatened the Jackets midway through the third quarter, but a fumble at the d'Iberville 22 ended the Rock drive.

With nine minutes remaining in the game, the Yellow Jackets mounted their own drive that produced their only score of the night.

Starting at their own 42, the Jackets moved 58 yards for the score.

During the drive, Demetrius Mosley carried the ball six times for 30 yards.

The big play on the drive was a 17 yard gain on a scramble by quarterback Josh Layton. The score came with 5:02 remaining in the game when Layton connected on a fourth-down pass to Randy Brimage for 12 yards.

Layton's attempt at a two-point conversion failed when he was stopped short of the goal by Davidge and Lee.

After recovering a St. Martin fumble with 50 seconds remaining, the game ended with the Rocks inside the Jacket one.

Statistical leaders for the Rock-A-Chaws were Lee with 54 yards on 8 carries, and Ken Booker with 50 yards on 13 carries.

For the Jackets, Mosley picked up 99 yards in 22 attempts.

In the defensive struggle, St.

Martin punter Jeff Barske punted eight times for an average of 32 yards.

Peterson's seven punts for the Rocks averaged 36 yards.

Next week, the Rocks entertain the d'Iberville Warriors. The winner wraps up a berth in the playoffs. The loser bows out of the playoff picture.

SSC cross-country runner third in meet

Special to the Echo
BY PATRICK MCGINITY

Senior Brian Brooks finished third in a field of 350 runners at the Catholic High Cross Country Meet held Saturday morning at Highland Road Park in Baton Rouge, La.

Brook's time in the three mile run was an impressive 15:27, 10 seconds behind the winner. The first 15 runners all finished the hilly course under 16 minutes.

In the freshmen competition the Rocks finished seventh in a field of 22 teams. The Rocks were lead by the eleventh place finish of Drew Scafile. Also competing for the Rocks were Gilly Chamberlin, Brian Carter, Frank Kerbyl, Neil Heitzmann and David Bell.

Next Saturday morning Stanislaus travels to Mobile to participate in the McGill-Toolen Invitational.

Tomcats maul Tigers

Special to the Echo
BY BURT TAYLOR

The Stone County Tomcats unleashed a devastating offensive attack to trounce the Bay High Tigers 47-6 at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College Stadium in Perkinston Friday night.

It was homecoming for the Tomcats and they wasted no time starting their offensive show, scoring in their first offensive play of the game.

The score came after the Tigers failed in their first drive and Charlie Mitchell dropped back to his own 10 to punt. The ball was snapped high and Mitchell was knocked down at his 6-yard line.

Junior running back Artie Moore swept left end and raced into the end zone for the first Tomcat TD. The PAT was good, and the Tomcats led 7-0 with 8:53 left in the first quarter.

The Tigers' second drive stalled again and the Tigers punted to the Stone 42. Moore circled left end once again and outran the Tiger defenders for a 58-yard touchdown, bringing the score to 14-0 on the Tomcats' first two offensive plays.

The two plays set the tone for the rest of the game, as the young Tigers were outmanned from the start. The Tomcats rushed the ball for more than 250 yards, coming mostly on end sweeps to both left and right.

Five different players scored TDs for the Tomcats, with Moore getting two and senior running back Tracy Corbett also making two.

The Tigers' only bright spot of the night came late in the fourth quarter. With the ball resting at the Tigers' 21, Mitchell dropped back to pass. He threw a short pass to senior split end Mike Scharp, who was still behind the line of scrimmage.

Scharp then threw the ball long and into the arms of senior wide receiver Will Moon, who hauled it in and was dragged down at the Stone 27-yard line.

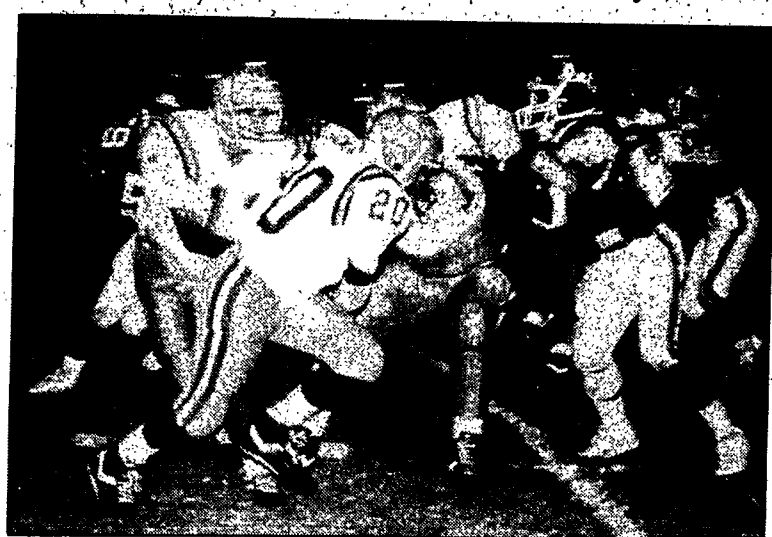

Two plays later, Mitchell hit Moon in the end zone for the TD with 2:01 remaining in the ball game. The PAT was no good.

The Tigers' journey to Biloxi next Friday night to take on the St. Martin Yellowjackets.

Pirates bury Blue Devils

Special to the Echo
BY PATRICK MCKEE

The Pass Christian Pirates waylaid the Pearl River Central Blue Devils 22-15 Friday night. The victory put the Pirates 1-2 in division play, and gave them an overall record of 4-3 for the season.

The game proved to be one of arms versus legs. While the Blue Devils excelled in their passing game, Pirate head coach Joseph Brown had his team running the ball.

"We wanted to have a ball-controlled game," Brown said. "The offense was super. We mixed it up real well."

In the first quarter the Pirates put 6 points on the scoreboard. The Pirates were the first to do so when Winfred Rials ran 30 yards for a touchdown. Eldon Daniels successfully kicked for the extra point, and the Pirates were ahead 22-7.

But the Blue Devils refused to give up. In the fourth quarter Bobby Thaxton tossed to Greg Lewis for a touchdown. He then passed to Bob Dunhurst for a 2-point conversion, and the score was 22-15. Unfortunately for the Blue Devils, time ran out and the Pirates had their victory.

"They had a heck of a passing game," Brown said about the Blue Devils. "They have a fine quarterback and a couple of real good receivers. They catch the ball real well."

Pearl River Central quarterback Bobby Thaxton completed nine of 18 attempted passes for a total of 167 yards. The Pirates completed four out of 12 passes for a total of 38 yards.

The Pirates had a total of 277 yards rushing while the Blue Devils had only 42 yards rushing. It was clear that Pass Christian controlled the running game.

"The whole offensive line did well," Brown said. "Boo Jenkins did a great job. Tracey Watts did great running the offense."

He also mentioned that punter Jimmy Crawford had a good game. One of his punts was for 50 yards.

Brown pointed out that wide receiver Tony Jacobs had his best game of the season, and that safety Burnell Dedeaux played an outstanding game. Dedeaux caught three interceptions during the game.

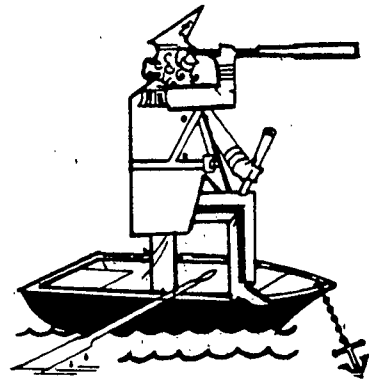

"I am very pleased with the defense. They played a tough game."

Although happy with the outcome of the game, one aspect concerned Brown — the penalties. While the Blue Devils had five penalties called on them for a loss of 45 yards, the Pirates had 14 penalties for a loss of 120 yards. According to Brown, the Pirates should not have had that many called against them.

Still, Brown was pleased with the end results, and he looks forward to next week's home game against Long Beach.

scoreboard when Ryan "Boo" Jenkins ran 72 yards for a TD. The PAT was no good.

Pearl River bedeviled the Pirates when Brian Lewis charged into the end zone on a 3-yard run. The Blue Devils took the lead when their PAT was good, and the score was 7-6.

In the second quarter Jerome Malley ran 8 yards for a touchdown. A 2-point conversion attempt failed, but later in the quarter, Eldon Daniels kicked a 22-yard field goal to make the score 15-7.

After halftime both teams came onto the field determined

Calling all creatures, both great and small

Area residents are invited to bring their pets to St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 5303 Diamondhead Circle to be blessed on Saturday, Oct. 20 at 10:30 a.m.

The Reverend Barry L. Cotter, vicar of St. Thomas, will conduct a short special service, including a general blessing after which pets may be brought forward individually to receive a personal blessing. Animals must be on a leash or in a carrier.

Families who have no pet to be blessed, or who choose not to bring a pet, are invited to bring the children to see the animals and observe the blessing.

Cookies, cake and punch will be served after the ceremony.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Meanwhile, back in church

A traffic jam reaches back miles to the west and miles to the east as determined drivers make for the Louisiana Superdome.

Never mind the interminable crawl. Never mind the sizzling summer heat, the lack of a decent breeze or the dismal prospect of shelling out almost ten bucks for a parking space. Despite it all, every driver is gleefully bent on getting to an exhibition game.

Meanwhile, back at the church, there is no traffic crush, no fanatical anticipation compelling anyone to arrive anywhere from thirty minutes to a full hour ahead of Sunday vigil services.

To the contrary, there is the usual troupe trying to time their arrival to coincide with the very beginning of worship, or, worse, simply biding their time until things are underway.

Alert, rabid fans stand at attention as the oft-maligned Star Spangled Banner is intoned, then butchered by a celebrity. Everyone is feeling good, everybody is all atwitter over the doings, however trite and repetitious they may be. The emotional, almost impassioned moments of reverence tendered the flag at that point leaves a strong flavor of fervor distinctly religious.

Meanwhile, back at the church, the flavor seems somehow less religious than on the playing field, as languid worshippers must often be jarred to attention when the gathering song is intoned. Seldom is a celebrity on hand to lead the singing, though it is frequently as equally butchered as the Star Spangled Banner. Often just as trite as the latter, the opening song hardly ever generates and fires passions to the flashpoint of fervor.

Kickoff is a marvelous moment of lingering suspense, holding booth sides of the competition in a steely grip of anticipation, hope and daring. Nothing portrays this better than the mighty roar which explodes from the tens of thousands of fans as soon as the football is airborne and the two sides charge each other.

Meanwhile, back in church, the Word of God, the "kickoff," is presented to the congregation. There is little evidence that this is a wonderful moment of "lingering" suspense for the faithful in attendance. Nor does it seem that they have trouble containing themselves and holding in a mighty roar as the Good News, the Roadmap of Life, is laid out for them. Alas, their response is very wimpy, almost comatose, compared to that of the stadium fans.

The hometown heroes fake a run up the middle and the tail-back runs wide to the right, scoring from the seventeen. The ensuing explosion of cheers and screams is punctuated by a homemade sign, proclaiming: "You'd better believe it!" An undulant, irrepressible wave is then executed by the 50,000-plus fans.

Meanwhile, back at the church, the staid homily, in which reference was made to the Saints' game, was followed by a matter-of-fact "I believe in one God," which could not hold a candle to the spirited "You'd better believe it!" on the playing field. Facial expressions sprinkled around the church made it obvious that getting up and down was a bit much. No undulant wave here!

At halftime, some fans got up and sought a moment of relief, while others made for the concession stands. Between the ticket price, parking and snacks, most of them had been hit for something in excess of thirty dollars.

Meanwhile, back in church, most of the faithful dropped a few dollars in the collection basket and felt pained in doing so.

Finally, the Saints won, and fans hung around four hours all told, while the churchgoers creaped out fatigued after one hour.

LOOKING INSIDE

By Pastor Bob Guidry, Jr.

Will the real clergy please stand up?

Who will take responsibility for the lack of moral standards in America? Whose responsibility is it anyway?

There comes a time when someone has to stand up and tell people that they are about to cause their own demise.

One of the reasons the United States has been a blessed and prosperous country is that it has always had a conscience, and that conscience has been the church.

In years past, the church, even with its different beliefs, has stood united for the moral and ethical principles on which this country was founded.

The present-day church, however, has stood by silently as the morals of the United States erode away.

I do not want to heap condemnation on the people who occupy the pews on Sunday. I want to direct this message mostly to the clergy who stand behind the pulpits.

If the clergy of America will not face the issues of life, why do we stand behind the pulpits of America? If we will not bring help to the hurting people trapped in the cage of human error, we will be held responsible by God.

I personally hold responsible the weak clergy of the past years, for the millions of babies murdered by the hands of the abortionists. It was the clergy's job to stand up and speak for those who could not speak for themselves.

We have allowed people to put human rights above human responsibility. No one wants to take responsibility for their own actions any more.

However, no one has the right to put their responsibility on someone else. Our rights are a direct result of ability to take responsibility for our actions.

Many of the clergy today are more concerned about being popular enough to build a big church, or don't want to upset the applecart and lose their retirement.

I was very excited to see the full page ad in last Sunday's paper speaking out against turning our wonderful cities into a gambling operation. I praise God for the man in the pulpit responsible for it.

I call for my fellow clergymen and brothers in Christ to stand in the pulpits of Hancock County and the Gulf Coast and proclaim what is right and good for our cities and country.

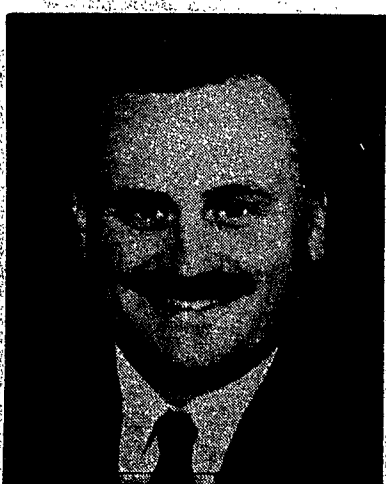

"How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher?" (Romans 10:14)

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

By H.
Randall Smith

Brighten your garden
with winter color

As the winter skies gray and brisk winter winds strip the trees of their majestic foliage, I tend to get that gloomy feeling as I reminisce over yet another completed growing season.

Then I remember those dancing darlings showing off colors of blue, purple, white and yellow amid the dreary winter skies and the whole world becomes brighter. Yes, folks, I am referring to those fantastic pansies of the plant world (thought I should clarify that).

Pansies are in the violet (Violaceae) family which contains many native and cultivated species. Well known species within this group include the garden or sweet violet, which is a perennial and is often found growing in many old landscapes.

Another plant found in the violet group is the familiar and tiny Johnny-Jump-Up. Both of these plants are rather fragrant, with the garden violet being purple in color and the Johnny-Jump-Up being purple, yellow and white in color.

Now, where was I? Oh, yes, pansies. They are actually cool-season, short-lived, perennials that grow as annuals in the hot South. They obtain a height of only four to six inches.

Pansies are rather finicky about their environment. They grow best in full sunlight and in a porous, well drained, fertile soil, preferably with a southern or southeastern exposure.

Excessive moisture will result in rotted and defunct plants, therefore it is critical that the beds be raised where necessary and amended properly.

Before pansies are planted, the soil should be tilled to a depth of four to six inches and generous amounts of organics (pine bark chips or peat moss) and clean, sharp sand incorporated into the planting area.

Once the plants have been set into the ground, they should be mulched with a two-inch layer of pine bark or pine straw. Pansies should be fertilized every three to four weeks with a liquid fertilizer to encourage vigorous plant growth.

After the newly set plants have been in the ground for about two weeks, the terminals can be pinched out. This well-known procedure displaces a naturally occurring hormone called auxin which promotes additional branching and yields a more compact plant.

Yes, some early flowers will be sacrificed. However, a larger number of flowers will be initiated over the life of the plant. By the way, folks, nursery grown pansies should be planted in the lower South by Nov. 1.

Here is some advice on purchasing pansies: always select plants which are short, stocky and dense. If the plants are spindly, they have been held at the retail or wholesale nursery too long, or have been grown under improper light conditions.

Whatever the reason, these plants are generally not worth planting because few flowers will be produced. So remember, do not get suckered into this avoidable dilemma and be sure to purchase pansies from your trained nurserymen.

The beauty of growing pansies is that they endure extremely cold temperatures while adding a splash of color and fragrance to the landscape at a time when there is little activity.

Pansies possess the innate capability to continue growing at temperatures near ten degrees Fahrenheit and continue flowering as temperatures approach 20 degrees Fahrenheit.

It is not until the arrival of hot weather in mid to late spring that pansies begin their demise. Their longevity and prolific blooms make planting pansies very rewarding.

The size of the blooms will vary among the varieties, but to encourage larger blooms, allow only five flower stalks to develop per plant. To encourage continuous blooming, be sure to remove the expired flowers which might appear on a daily basis.

There are many pansy varieties found on the market today, so do not be afraid to experiment with them.

The 'Swiss Giant' and 'Majestic Giant' have extra large flowers and usually bloom early. The 'Viking' hybrids are reported to have more heat tolerance and larger flowers than the 'Swiss Giant'.

The newer 'Universal' hybrids have somewhat smaller flowers but occur in such large numbers that they nearly conceal the foliage, and the blooming occurs until late spring.

Other good hybrids include 'Joker' and 'Imperial'.

'Joker' has a large, light blue flower with a darker center. The 'Imperial' produces larger, pastel colored flowers.

A striking mixture is to interplant tulips with the pansies. This provides a broader spectrum of color and gives additional height to the otherwise low growing plant mass.

Once the tulips have expired, they can be removed and fertilizer added to the pansies which continue to perform beautifully until the onset of hot weather.

I like to plant pansies and other annual or perennial flowering plants in the foreground of evergreen shrubs which supply an adequate backdrop. To give a splendid splash of color, be sure to plant pansies in a mass and be sure to stagger the plants between rows. So don't scribble on the pansies or tulips.

However, pansies do not have to be planted in the landscape to be enjoyed. They can be used to add color to any container or window box which greatly accents most apartment patios, balconies or homes. Another great attribute of pansies is their ability to be used as a cut flower in fresh floral arrangements.

If you need more professional advice about growing pansies successfully, be sure to contact your trained local nursery staff or give me a call at the Hancock County Extension Office at 467-5456.

So until we meet again, this is Randy Smith saying, "Don't be a wimp—brighten your landscape with colorful pansies this winter."

Planting season nearing; seedlings still available

Mississippi was second only to Georgia in tree planting last year, but thus far for this year tree seedling sales have been slower than a year ago. State forestry agency foresters would like to see those seedling orders pick up.

Thirty million tree seedlings growing in the Mississippi Forestry Commission's three nurseries have yet to find a home, according to Freddie Jordan, chief of forest management for the agency.

"This is one of the best crops of seedlings we've had in several years," Jordan exclaimed, "and yet sales are running behind."

The tree planting season in Mississippi is from December-March, but tree seedling orders are normally made well in advance of planting dates to assure being able to get the species and quantities needed and get them delivered on time.

Jordan said besides having plenty of Loblolly, Slash and Longleaf pines, there is a small, rapidly dwindling supply of Sycamore and Bald Cypress trees still unclaimed.

"Our hardwood seedlings are always grabbed up fast by landowners and this year was no exception," he said.

The veteran forester is suggesting that anyone wanting to order some of the remaining hardwood species should check with their local county forester very quickly. "In fact it may already be too late on these hardwoods," he speculated.

Jordan explained that commission seedlings are carefully grown from specific genetic seed sources and are labeled and sold for planting in regions of the state where it is known that they will grow best.

"Forestry researchers proved a long time ago the importance and necessity of planting seedlings from known, good geographic seed sources," Jordan noted.

For more information on seedling prices and species availability contact the local county forestry office of the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Food Pantry

Volunteers have provided groceries for nearly 4,000 families since opening

BY JANET MCQUEEN

Through the generosity of local citizens and their churches, needy families are provided with food five days a week through the Hancock County Food Pantry.

The community pantry has supplied a week's worth of groceries to more than 3,800 families since its opening in 1986. More than 13,500 persons have received help from the United Way sponsored agency.

Members from area churches are responsible for planning and opening the Food Pantry four years ago. A state charter was obtained and free office space was made available courtesy of Hancock County Civil Defense, at that time located on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis.

When the civil defense office moved to the former location of the Hancock County Jail, the Food Pantry moved with them to more spacious headquarters.

A separate interview room allows food applicants to be questioned by a volunteer as to the needs of his family. Each applicant is required to bring a referral form from the welfare department, church or other charitable organization.

Bags are packed, according to the size of the family, using a standard list. Staple items contained include peanut butter and jelly, canned meats, vegetables and fruits, pork and beans, tomatoes and tomato sauce, soup, rice, beans, macaroni and cheese, flour, sugar, spaghetti, hand soap and laundry and dish detergent.

A bag containing bread, rolls and donuts is also included. Bakery products are donated by local bakeries and are kept in used, donated freezers.

Food Pantry treasurer and food buyer Wilma Cowand McMahon notes local grocery store Jitney-Jungle has been extremely cooperative, offering reduced prices and free delivery to the charitable organization.

Most volunteers who operate the pantry represent local churches, including Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Christ Episcopal Church, Shoreline Park Baptist Church, First Baptist Church, Waveland Methodist Church, Diamondhead Community Church and Main Street Methodist Church.

Other churches and civic organizations contribute financially and periodically stage food drives to boost the pantry inventory.

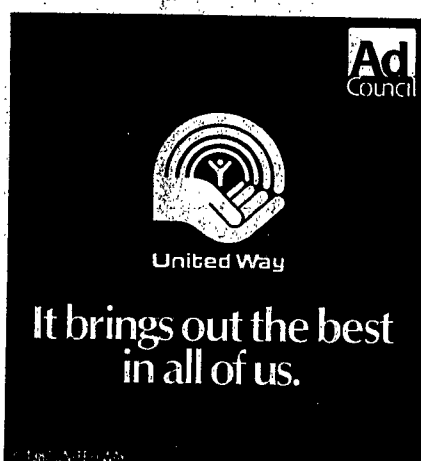

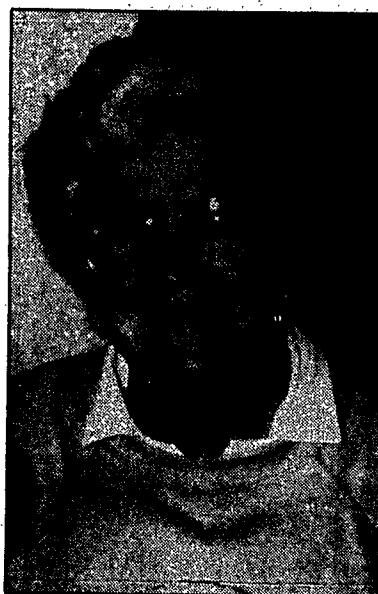

Local schools sponsor an annual food drive in October, according to McMahon, who chairs the event.

The pantry is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. until noon.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Blue Jeans Garden Club

Members of the Blue Jeans Garden Club met at the home of Eunice Foret, Clermont Harbor, for the first fall meeting of the group. Gladys Goodloe and Annabelle Cox were co-hostesses. Following the opening prayer, led by Cox, she read a poem by Katherine Nelson, "the Greatest Blessings."

After an enthusiastic welcome to 18 attending members, president Dot Feaheny immediately began the business at hand.

Several interesting reports from various committee chairmen were given and were followed by discussions of coming club projects.

A motion was made by Lucille Witter that the club support the United Way by a donation of $25. The vote was unanimously in favor.

It has become a Blue Jeans tradition over the past few years for each member to pot a plant of her choosing in May, caring for it all summer, and bringing it to the first fall meeting for a secret "plant swap" among the members.

Following a very interesting and informative meeting, it was time for the judging of plants and arrangements among members.

Winners in the various categories were: Potted, Lucille Witter; Cultivated, Gladys Goodloe; Miniature, Margaret Heitzmann; Dried, Eunice Foret; and Horticulture, Beverly Coogan.

The door prize, a lovely coelus potted plant, was won by Margaret Heitzmann, and the 50/50 winner was Jennie Ortis.

Friendship Oak Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution

Friendship Oak Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Long Beach, met at 11:30 a.m. Oct. 10 at the Great Southern Club in Gulfport, when Mrs. James R. Thomas was hostess. A buffet lunch was enjoyed by the members and six guests.

Guest speaker, Lt. Col. Gary R. Cazier, Commander of the Air National Guard Training Site in Gulfport, was introduced by Mrs. James B. Brumfield. Col. Cazier's topic was "Air National Guard, Its Mission and Impact on Mississippi's Gulf Coast."

Mrs. William J. Gemmel, regent, opened the meeting. Minutes of the September meeting were read and approved, and Mrs. Sidney H. Ruskin gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Ruskin also reported that she, Mrs. Gemmel and Mrs. Brumfield attended the Rosalie Day program and luncheon at Rosalie, the ante bellum home in Natchez belonging to Mississippi DAR. Contributions by DAR members have recently purchased new carpets for the double parlors, and renovations on the dependency are beginning.

Oct. 11 marked the beginning of the NSDAR Centennial year. Friendship Oak Chapter will present a Centennial program at its Nov. 14 meeting in the home of Mrs. Robert C. Willems in Long Beach.

Mrs. Robert L. Morton has been appointed to the office of registrar by the board of the chapter. The meeting adjourned at 1:20 p.m.

Harrison County
Salon 218 8 and 40

The Harrison County Salon 218 8 and 40 held its installation of partners Sept. 20 at the Catfish Shak in Gulfport. Installing officer was past Departmental Chapeau Beatrice Ladner.

Chapeau Lucille Boudreaux honored past departmental chapeaus by calling their names and giving red roses to those present.

Honored were: Hazel Robinson, Esther Oschmann, Marion Elliott, Vickie Page (deceased), Sis Wescovich, Bernice Mitchell Esche, Jean Eady, Pauline Charping, Beatrice Ladner and Genevieve Cole.

Also honored were past Salon 218 Chapeaus: Bernice Esche, Philamene Ramsey (deceased), Mattie North, Anna Gayaut, Evelyn Burns, Lou Wilkerson, Agnes Dalton, Hazel Robinson, Lucille Boudreaux.

Esther Oschmann was demi chapeau of the Southern District in 1965.

Before the installation, Boudreaux introduced Lucille Wilkerson as second vice president, department of Mississippi American Legion Auxiliary.

Bernice Esche was elected Departmental L'Aumonier, Department of Mississippi for 1990-1991 at the marche held in Jackson in August.

Partners installed by Salon 218 8/40 were: Chapeau — Lucille Boudreaux; Le Demi Chapeau Premier — Janet Aime; Le Demi Chapeau Deuxieme — Ted Melvin; L'Archiviste — Bettye Lou Rye; L'Aumonier — Inez Bouis; La Concierge — Mimi Nehart; La Secretaire Caissiere — Susan Piazza; L'Avocate — Ann Gayaut; La Surintendante — Beatrice Ladner; Pouvoir — Lucille Wilkerson.

Each partner installed was given a corsage of red carnations and a diploma of her duties for 1990-1991.

Chairmen appointed were: Partnership — Janet Aime and Susan Piazza; Children and Youth — Genevieve Cole; Nurses Scholarship — Mimi Nehart; Publicity — Bettye Lou Rye; Constitution and By-Laws — Jean Eady; Finance — Ann Gayaut; Ritual Emblems, Trophies and Awards — Susan Piazza; Fun and Fellowship — Beatrice Ladner.

Bernice Esche attended the installing officer as secretaire, while Marius Ladner attended as L'Aumonier. Special guests Hazel Brelard, Jeanette Ladner and Esche assisted with the installation.

Boudreaux thanked the partners for their support during her 1989-1990 term and asked for continued support during the 1990-1991 term.

Outgoing officers were presented gifts for service during the past year.

Esther Oschmann was wished a speedy recovery by the officers and partners of Salon 218. Beatrice Ladner was also wished a quick recuperation from heart surgery.

The next partnership meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 25, 7 p.m., at the American Legion Post #119, Courthouse Road in Gulfport. Three new partners — Ruth Powers of Auxiliary #119, Judy Gavigny and Jackie Bufkin of Auxiliary #139 — will be installed, with Beatrice Ladner in charge.

All partners are urged to attend, and are reminded that dues of $10 are due.

Coast Jazz Society

Members of the Mississippi Coast Jazz Society are in for treats as the group assembles in the Crystal Ball Room of the Royal d'Iberville Hotel in Biloxi Monday, Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m. for the annual observance of Halloween.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

WAVELAND
TOPS No. 233 Waveland met Tuesday, Oct. 9, at the Waveland Public Library on Coleman Avenue. Denise was the week's best loser with 3½ pounds.

Carolyn received a charm for losing her first ten pounds. Jeanette has reached her goal.

The club will have a white elephant sale at the next meeting. Members are asked to attend and bring an item for the sale.

The chapter meets every Tuesday. Weigh-ins are from 6 to 6:30 p.m., and the meeting begins immediately following weigh-ins. Anyone interested in losing weight the sensible way, and keeping it off, is encouraged to visit one of the meetings.

Pass Christian Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club had its second meeting of the season Thursday, Oct. 4 in Pass Christian.

Mrs. Warren L. Schulz, president, announced the club had received a certificate of achievement for 1989-90 from the Spanish Trail District and a certificate of merit for Conservation of Trees, due to the efforts of Shireley Doe's committee.

Mrs. Kay Chapman, wildflower garden chairman, encouraged members to continue to visit Wm. Bartram Arboretum and Wildflower Garden on Menge Avenue. Members were also urged to assist in the upkeep of the Arboretum and Wildflower Garden.

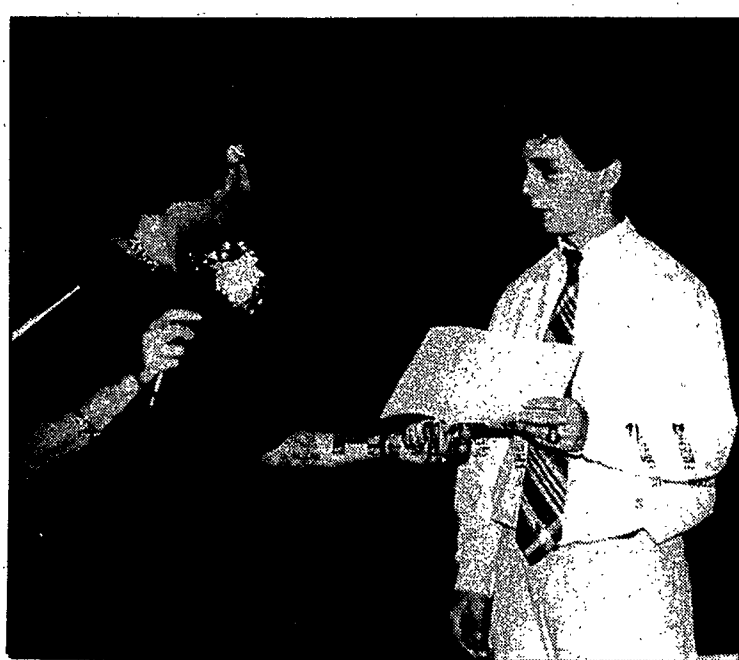

Mrs. J. W. Hedgpeth, horticulture chairman, reminded members of the need to delay planting and use of oil emulsions until more moisture is available. She also gave advice on separation of bulbs and preparation for winter.

There was member input on care of hummingbird feeders, and a discussion of wildflower exhibits was presented by Mrs. James Wagoner, chairman.

Plans for a white elephant and plant and bake sale on Nov. 11 were discussed. Support for club and community activities completed the business session.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Katherine Leguay. Her program was on creative vegetable garnishes, and she demonstrated preparation and use of a variety of vegetable garnishes.

Hostesses were Mrs. Alexander Norcross and Mrs. Logan Cline.

Showing appreciation

Gulf Coast Association Life Underwriters

The Gulf Coast Association of Life Underwriters received the distinguished public relations award at the National Association of Life Underwriters (NALU) 101st Convention, Sept. 9-13 in Seattle, Wash.

Jeff Turnipseed, local president, accepted the award. Hundreds of other associations all across the country competed for this prestigious award.

"Everyone in the Gulf Coast Association worked very hard to win this recognition, and I am proud to be part of the team. It's always rewarding to see our hard work pay off. I'd just like to thank everyone who contributed," said Turnipseed.

Also attending the national convention were Gene Levens and Fred Holmes.

The Gulf Coast Association was formed in the mid 1950's and has 114 members. NALU was founded in 1890 and is a federation of 1,000 state and local associations, the 138,000 members of these local associations are sales professionals in life and health insurance and other related financial services.

Hancock Women's Club

The Hancock Women's Club had its monthly meeting Oct. 11 at 11 a.m. at the Quality Inn, Diamondhead. Members and guests were welcomed to the meeting and luncheon by Julia Loup, vice president.

Theda Fischer, ways and means chairman, announced a special fund-raising feature for the November meeting will be presentation of a holiday basket of goodies. Included in the hand-decorated basket will be an assortment of holiday treats.

Plans were made for a trip to Gulf Islands National Seashore in Ocean Springs on Oct. 24. Members should bring a picnic lunch and meet at the Jitney Jungle parking lot in Bay St. Louis at 10 a.m. In the event of inclement weather, the trip will be cancelled.

The next meeting of the club will be Nov. 8, 10:30 a.m. at the Waveland Library.

Hancock County Lions Club

At the October 2 meeting of the Hancock County Lions Club at Bayou Phillips Community Center, regional chairman Michael Hollifield presented the 100 Percent President Award to past club president Raymond Rome.

This award is based on several things, including the efficiency of the club's secretary under the administration of the past president being considered for the award.

Other requirements for receiving the award include sponsoring a new member during one's term as president; directing club members in a major service activity for the community; attending a school of instruction; and attending all cabinet and zone meetings as well as all conventions within one's district.

The club must also have shown a net increase in membership and have paid all of its obligations during the award candidate's term.

Hollifield also presented Rome and Lucille Boudreaux with Key Membership awards from Lions International.

Lion President Eula Rome introduced the club's special guest, Supervisor Wilmer Seymour.

Plans were finalized for the district convention, which will be held Oct. 12-14 at the Howard Johnson in Biloxi, with District 30N Governor Bob Talley presiding over the business sessions.

Eula Rome and Lions Joyce Bermond, Wanda and Charles Berthelot, Lucille Boudreaux, Loney Nacaise, Russell Sulton and Raymond Rome attended the Zone 1 meeting at Golden Corral Restaurant in Gulfport Oct. 3. Zone chairman John Palmer presided over the business session, and District Governor 30N Bob Talley and his wife Kathleen were special guests.

After the regular meeting and awards presentation Oct. 2, members and guests enjoyed a buffet dinner.

The next regular meeting of the Hancock County Lions Club will be Oct. 9 at Bayou Phillips Community Center.

Beta Sigma Phi XI Theta Chapter

The monthly meeting of Beta Sigma Phi XI Theta chapter of Pass Christian, was held Monday, Oct. 8 at Hancock Bank Annex.

A demonstration was given by Jean Ann Swenson, consultant for Beauti Control Cosmetics.

Hostesses were Loretta Ladner and Inez Pogue.
The next meeting will be Nov. 12 at Hancock Bank Annex at 7 p.m.

Mississippi Environmental Quality Permit BoardP. O. Box 10385
Jackson, MS 39208-0385
Telephone No. (601) 861-5171
Public Notice No. 90A-MS-024

Calgon Carbon Corporation, 500 Calgon Drive, Robinson Township, Pennsylvania, 15005, (412) 787-6700 has applied to the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality for a Permit to Construct Air Emissions Equipment. The applicant's proposed facility will be located at 3499 Port and Harbor Drive in the Port of Bluffview Industrial Park, and will produce activated carbon. The proposed facility has been assigned Facility No. 1000-00015, and the operation falls under Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Code 2819. Emissions from this facility will be particulate matter, sulfur dioxide, nitrogen oxides, carbon monoxide and volatile organic compounds (VOC's), including benzene and benzopyrene.

The impact of the emissions of air contaminants from the project has been evaluated and the staff of the Department believes that, with proper constraints and limitations on Calgon Carbon Corporation, this project will operate within all State and Federal air pollution control laws and standards and will protect health and welfare. Therefore, the staff of the Board has preliminarily decided, based on available information, to recommend to the Board that a permit be issued containing numerous regulatory constraints specifically stated in the draft permit. However, before proceeding further with the staff evaluation, public comments are being solicited. The staff recommendation to the Board, as well as the Board decision, will be made only after a thorough consideration of all public comments.

Persons wishing to comment upon or object to the proposed determinations are invited to submit comments in writing to Elliott Bickelstaff at the above Permit Board address, no later than 30 days from the date of publication of this notice. All comments received by that date will be considered in the formulation of final determinations regarding the application. A public hearing will be held if the Permit Board finds a significant degree of public interest in the proposed permit. The Permit Board is limited in the scope of its analysis to environmental impacts. Any comments relative to zoning or economic and social impacts are within the jurisdiction of local zoning and planning authorities and should be addressed to them.

Additional details about the application, including a copy of the draft permit, are available by writing or calling Elliott Bickelstaff at the above Permit Board address and telephone number. This information is also available for review at the following location(s) during normal business hours.

CONSUMER UPDATE

Managing during a recession

By Janet K. Lukens
Area Consumer
Management Specialist

As the economic indicators point to recession, there are some steps you can take to protect yourself.

If unemployment rises and inflation continues to steadily increase, a large deficit may appear in many household budgets. Even those with secure jobs may be affected.

Pay increases, overtime and bonuses many have become accustomed to, even dependent on, could disappear.

How do we manage or even survive in times like these? The key lies in conservative, even defensive, money management techniques.

A first step may be in securing your job position. In hard times, the most valuable employees have the most security.

If you presently have a stable job, but are thinking of making a risky employment move, think carefully before you make the move. Periods of economic growth are much more conducive to starting a new business or changing companies. Switching companies loses some of its allure when you consider that the newest employees are often the first to go.

Build up savings as much as possible. A minimum of three months living expenses is the usual recommendation for a reserve savings account. With a slow economy, it is recommended that these reserves be increased to six months expenses.

To build up that savings, take a look at all flexible expenses, especially the miscellaneous category.

MILITARY MENTIONS

PVT MURPHREE

Army National Guard Pvt. 1st Class Martin M. Murphree has completed basic training at Fort Lee, Va.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

He is the son of Thomas and Nanette, Murphree of Waveland.

The private is a 1990 graduate of Bay Senior High School.

PO2 DANIELLE RAMSEL

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Danielle M. Ramsel, daughter of Louis and Helen L. Decell of Bay St. Louis, recently reported for duty at Naval Air Station, Sigonella, Italy.

She is a 1985 graduate of Bay Senior High School.

SEAMAN DANKO

Navy Seaman Recruit Matthew J. Danko, son of John A. and Susan A. Danko of Pass Christian, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla.

During Danko's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

He is a 1990 graduate of St. Stanislaus High School.

Quit carrying the automatic teller card around. Plan out the amount you need for weekly cash expenses. Take out that amount on payday and spend no more. Put up credit cards so that they are not a temptation anymore.

Control your use of credit. Eliminate all credit card debt as soon as possible. The 18 percent to 21 percent charged on credit cards in Mississippi, can quickly eat up any flexibility in the budget.

Only if your income is very secure, is it wise to refinance your credit card debt into a home equity loan.

Home equity loans of up to $100,000 have a tax advantage as well as usually charging a much lower interest rate. However, they have the disadvantage of putting your home in jeopardy if the income should drop.

This is probably not the time for frantically selling off all your stock and bond holdings. Individual investors who attempt to time the market usually lose. Be sure to exercise caution and to follow basic principles like diversification.

If you are near retirement, you should be gradually moving investments into fixed income securities regardless of the economic climate.

If you are young and have a secure income, this may be an opportunity for purchasing lower priced stocks and bonds. Keep in mind, though, the stock market is never the place for money you cannot afford to lose.

For more information on this subject, contact the Consumer Money Management Center at 2710 Beach Blvd., Suite 1-E, Biloxi MS 39531 or (601) 388-4710.

CLUBS, AUXILIARIES

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

Members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club traveled to Poyune Thursday, Oct. 11, where they were guests of the Garden Club of Poyune.

Both clubs convened for a very interesting and informative trip through the Crosby Arboretum led by director Ed Blake.

Blake emphasized the Crosby Arboretum chooses to present relations occurring between plants and their habitats.

In a 64-acre native plant center more than 700 plant species and their habitats are protected and studied. He was very gracious in answering the many questions the ladies asked about the plants and trees in the area.

Upon returning to the Pinecote Pavilion, both clubs enjoyed sandwiches, coffee and desserts provided by the ladies of Poyune.

After a nice visit, where ideas were exchanged, the Garden Club of Poyune was invited to the flower show which the Bay-Waveland Garden Club is presenting at the Garden Center at 114 Leonard Street in Bay St. Louis on Friday, Oct. 19 between 1 and 5 p.m. The event is free and open to the public.

Parents Without Partners

On Friday, Oct. 26 at 7:30 p.m. Parents Without Partners will award Drew Allen of Allen Beverages Inc. a plaque in appreciation of his community spirit from the single parents of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

A Halloween costume party and an old-time cake walk at the Pepsi Plant, 13300 Dedeaux Road, will follow the dedication. Donation is $2 at the door and $1 to walk for homemade cakes. This is an open event. All single parents are welcome.

For information, call Mary at 897-1816 or 896-4852.

Gulf Coast Chapter Mississippi Society CPAs

The Gulf Coast Chapter of Mississippi Society of CPAs will meet Oct. 23 at the Holiday Inn Airport, Hwy. 49, Gulfport.

Harris H. "Trip" Barnes will present a program on estate planning concepts. The eight-hour program will begin at 8:15 a.m. and will qualify for continuing professional education.

For further information, contact Ronda Anderson, 863-0411.

Haynie to discuss Renaissance period

William S. Haynie will speak to the Friends of the Library of Harrison County at the Gulfport Library on Oct. 22 at 1:30 p.m.

His presentation will include a slide lecture and history of the Renaissance. The focus of the lecture will be on the art, literature, architecture and music of the Renaissance.

The program is sponsored by the Mississippi Humanities Council and is open to the public.

Haynie, who resides in Gulfport, has been active in civic and cultural causes on the Gulf Coast for many years.

He is the founder and first president of the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council. He has served on the Mississippi Arts Commission and the Mississippi Humanities Council. He has also served on the board of the Mississippi Heart Association.

He has been active in promoting music and theater, serving as president of the advisory boards for Riviera Productions and the Sheffield Ensemble Theater.

Now retired, Haynie was a vice president of Prentice-Hall Publishing Company. He was also an administrative editor in the CBS Publishing Group.
